

David Lannon
Executive Vice President of Operations

A supermarket industry veteran of more than 20 years, David Lannon began his career in the Boston area in produce with Bread & Circus in 1986, working his way up to director of operations.

In 1994, he worked in Whole Foods Market's Northern California Region, holding various store leadership positions, including store team leader in Palo Alto and San Francisco (Franklin). In 1996, Lannon was promoted to vice president and later president of the North Atlantic Region, where he played an integral role in the overseas development, and specifically with the Kensington High Street store in London.

Most recently Lannon was president for the Northern California Region, where he was responsible for 36 stores in California and northern Nevada. He currently serves as a member of the executive team with John Mackey, Walter Robb, Glenda Flanagan, A.C. Gallo, Jim Sud and Ken Meyer.
